

I would like to open a credit account with you, where y...

Author:
Islamic Bookstore.com

Created On: 28 Jan 2007 07:25 PM

Except for government institutions, correctional facilities, and universities, in a word, no, unfortunately.

Due to the fact that we purchase and sell products on a quick basis, we require prepayment on all orders, except certain government (federal and state) entities purchasing via official purchase order, and universities and colleges who submit orders via purchase orders.

We are unable to extend "credit terms" to bookstores, individuals, masjid, and so on. Please visit our wholesale program for more information, where we give free shipping and great prices on prepaid orders, along with generous return priveleges.

You can view this page here: <http://islamicbookstore.com/wholesale.html>